Remarkable Facts Brought Out
In a Louisiana Murder Trial.

The Daughter of the Murdered Man Publicly Wedded in Court to the Slayer of Her Father.

The Murder Proved, But the Murderer Promptly Acquitted by the Jury.

NEW ORLEANS, La., May 23.—Last March a German named Binglewiler was killed on the Island, Liberty Parish, Louisiana. The body was found lying across his daughter's bed, riddled with bullets. A few minutes after the shots were fired his daughter Anna was discovered in the woods near by, with a bullet in her thigh. Dr. Frank Henckle and Ernest Van Horn, two respectable young men, were arrested for the killing, and the report soon got abroad that the girl's father had been killed by her sweetheart, that her father had been frequently outraged her person.

Henckle and his friend Van Horn lived in the vicinity of the house on the night of the tragedy, and on hearing the girl scream rushed in, and catching Binglewiler in the act of killing her, they rushed to the rescue, wounding the girl. These rumors were entirely corroborated by Miss Anna on the trial of the case Thursday, and the prisoners were acquitted. Immediately after the trial Henckle announced his intention of marrying the girl, and procured a license.

Yesterday another murder case was in progress, when the mother of the groom appeared, leaning on the arm of Van Horn, followed by Henckle and Miss Anna.
The case in progress was postponed fifteen minutes, and the couple were married by Judge Gates. When the ceremony was concluded, the audience cheered until the court officers were compelled to silence them. Henckle, physically but not in good local reputation, and Miss Anna is a pretty blonde of seventeen.

Riot's Barbarous Conduct.
CHICAGO, Ill., May 23.—An article was published in the Tribune yesterday giving a detailed account of the terrible death, in 1870, of Thos. Scott at the direct instigation of Louis Riel, and in the course of the article the name of a certain Major Robinson was prominently mentioned. This Major Robinson, an ex-officer of the British army, was for a long time editor of a paper called the New Yorker, published at Port Garry during the revolt of 1870, and was, according to the article, in close intercourse with Riel at that time. Indeed it was stated that Major Robinson was present at the death of Scott, and the description of the heinous tragedy was alleged to have come from him. The article is signed "Henry M. Robinson," and he is employed as an associate editor of the Tribune, a weekly literary and religious journal. To a reporter he was inclined to be reticent on the subject of Scott's execution.

It is probably the only living man besides Louis Riel, who knows the full facts of the case, and it is not surprising that he should be so reticent on the subject. He has many friends in Canada, both on the side of the Government and those of the rebels. To the latter he is a hero, and to the former a traitor. The article in the Tribune is a very clever piece of work, and it is not surprising that it should have been published in a paper of such high reputation. It is a pity that the author should be so reticent on the subject of Scott's execution.

INDIANAPOLIS Journal: The re-election of Senator Logan is a victory worthy to be celebrated with the greatest enthusiasm. The contest had assumed a national character and the triumph of the man and of the party is only second in importance and influence to the election of a President.

The election of General Logan makes the United States Senate stand 41 Republicans, 31 Democrats and one vacancy. The Oregon legislature will, perhaps, be re-convened, and the good lesson in Illinois will cause a Republican senator to be speedily chosen from that state.

Bloomington Leader: The Democratic party, which is always shouting itself hoarse in declaring that it is the party of the poor man, rejected William R. Morrison and took up the millionaire, Tree. The Republican party chose a poor man at the start, and stood by him till he was elected. That is the difference between profession and practice.

Ex-President Arthur's horses were perhaps too active and "often sneak parties" to be continued in the White House stables, and they were shipped to New York to be sold, and a brand new span has taken their stalls. Those new horses shake their silver mounted harness along the highways, and remind the old slaves that the era of simplicity and economy will be inaugurated after a bit, but not just now.

Washed-Out Hair.
There is a sort of a pallid, chalky complexion which the cosmetologists call "washed-out complexion." It is ghastly enough, and no mistake. Washed-out, faded, dis-colored, or partially colorless hair is almost as repulsive and unattractive. Parker's Hair Balm will restore your hair to its original color, whatever it was; brown, auburn or black. Write now on your card, when you may easily have lovely, shining hair.

Free to All.
The managers of Oakland Park invite all Sunday schools in the city, county and adjoining counties, as well as all private individuals to send their pupils to the Park this season round or up. The grounds have been nicely fitted up at great expense with artificial lake, buildings, walks, swings, seats, tables, etc., and are admirably adapted for all picnic and pleasure purposes. Located at western terminus of Citizens' Street Railway, and open every day and evening, free to all.

Oakland Park Notes.
It is a mile to the park and all street cars go to the entrance every 15 minutes.
Four swings are hung from the branches of tall oak trees in different parts of the grounds.
A splendid well of spring-like water is located in the centre of the grounds, on the way to the lake. It is 37 feet deep.
The water is nearly ice cold. The pump is a "Niagara."
There are eight boats on the lake, some of which are supplied with oars for amateur "sea dogs." William Reynolds is the name of the courteous young man in charge of the boats that are let to parties at 25 cents an hour.
The frame for the large pleasure building is nearly finished and the structure will be put up in a few days. It will be 44 feet square, with no supports except at the sides, so that the floor may be used for dancing if desired. It will be covered with an iron roof. There will be an oil at the corner for Wood Bros. refreshment stand. The building will serve as a place of refuge in case of a rain.
A little has been placed on the east side near the silage port, so that parties who go out in vehicles can tie their horses to the fence and enter the grounds with convenience.

Accident.
Between 12 and 1 o'clock to-day at the intersection of West Main and Church streets, William Morthland, an aged gentleman, was thrown out of a buggy by a fractious mare, led by a halter. The mare jumped between the wheel and the buggy bed, tipping over and carried to the fire house where he was attended by Dr. W.
J. Chenoweth, and brought to his equine home. He was not seriously hurt, only severely stunned. He got into the buggy and started home.

Fined $30.00.
Last evening Marshal Mason got word that a stranger named Charles F. Watson, hailing from New York, was in the city, selling goods about town without first getting a peddler's license. Watson arrived Thursday night, and spent most of yesterday going about town in a rui-nated, calling at different offices and residences in whose localities police officers are stationed. He visited scores of places and worked what is called the "geograph racket," taking orders for fine carpets to be furnished at very low figures. Before leaving he let out his real business by offering pieces of goods for gentleman's suits, selling at $50 to $60. His made sales amounting to $150, when the Marshal captured him. He was brought before Justice Lowry this forenoon, and was prosecuted by Attorney Mills. He was nailed to the cross for three violations of the peddler's ordinance, and was fined $25 and costs on each, (lowest fine), a total of $75.00. Watson forked over the cash and was discharged. He will be careful in the future to get a license when he visits Decatur.

A Double Fire Test.
Mr. Ekstrom has returned to the city, and on Monday evening, May 25th, at about 8 o'clock, on the old square, he will give another test—a double fire test—the of the Lewis hand fire extinguisher. This test will give the public a practical knowledge of the merits of the Lewis extinguisher and demonstrate fully that it is just the thing needed in private and public buildings. Business men, property owners and the public generally are urged to attend this test. Mr. Ekstrom will conduct it in person.

A SCOURGE.
In the Insurance Argus of April last appeared the following strong endorsement:
"The Lewis Hand Fire Extinguisher is as far above all other extinguishers as the sun is above the light of the star superior to that of the moon. Its advantages are: It is simple and under the control of the person using it, and that it may be applied exactly where necessary. We believe that these Extinguishers are bound to come into general use, and we also believe that they will save many a house from being generally used in case of fire. The Extinguisher is held in the hand of whoever uses it, and the fluid is easily thrown to any point needed, and delivered in such a way that it can be used with safety. It is understood, of course, that the principal use of the Extinguisher is to extinguish fires, but it is practically the same in the difference consists in the manner of delivering the chemical fluid.
The Extinguisher, the better principle is depended free to act at once, and in this consists its great advantage."
